

Standards of Excellence for Public Administration Education and Training

JOIN THE CONVERSATION

The UN DESA/IASIA Task Force will revise the Standards of Excellence for Public Administration Education and Training. This represents an opportunity to profoundly affect the world for good by improving the quality of its governance.

About this initiative:

- UNPAN website at unpan.un.org/node/1879
- IASIA website at iasia.iias-iisa.org
- 2008 Standards of Excellence bit.ly/2008-standards-of-excellence

To contribute to this process, take the SURVEY at forms.office.com/e/veQ6EYRYZ2

Contact us: unpan@un.org

WHAT?

UN DESA and IASIA established a Task Force to review the Standards of Excellence for Public Administration Education and Training.

WHY?

The Standards are being reviewed to mainstream the Sustainable Development Goals and reflect new developments in public administration.

HOW?

The review will be conducted through a global and regional consultative process.

WHEN?

The review process will take place between 2023 and 2024.

WHO CAN CONTRIBUTE?

All schools and institutes of public administration, networks, academia and representatives of international and regional organizations, including all actors and stakeholders.