I. Defining Effective Institutions

Institutions are the rules of a society or of organizations that facilitate coordination among people by helping them form expectations which each person can reasonably hold in dealing with each other.

Ruttan and Hayami, 1984

Institutions are a set of rules, compliance procedures, and moral and ethical behavioral norms designed to constrain the behavior of individuals.

Douglas North, 1981

II. Features of Effective, Accountable and Inclusive Institutions for the Achievement of the 2030 Agenda

Weak institutions

can undermine countries' prospects for growth SDG implementation

Features of Effective, Accountable and Inclusive Institutions play a cross-cutting role in the 2030 Agenda as the Agenda and the SDGs prominently feature institutions, both as a cross-cutting issue in many of the goals (namely SDGs 8, 9, 10, 13, 14 and 17) and as a standalone goal (SDG 16).

The targets under SDG 16 highlight several concepts that may be viewed as overarching institutional principles: effectiveness, transparency, accountability, anti-corruption, inclusiveness of decision-making processes, access to information, non-discrimination of laws and policies.

II. Features of Effective, Accountable and Inclusive Institutions for the Achievement of the 2030 Agenda

“Promote peaceful and inclusive societies for sustainable development, provide access to justice for all and build effective, accountable and inclusive institutions at all levels”

Challenges for Building Effective, Inclusive and Accountable Institutions

A lack of government leadership and ownership of reform initiatives

Complex political-economy challenges

Application of technocratic, "one-size-fits-all" approaches

Poor sequencing and frequent changes in management strategies

III. Principles of Effective Governance to Build Effective, Accountable and Inclusive Institutions

Effective institution covers not only effectiveness but also accountability and inclusiveness

III. Principles of Effective Governance to Build Effective, Accountable and Inclusive Institutions

Effectiveness

Competence

To perform their functions effectively, institutions are to have sufficient expertise, resources and tools to deal adequately with the mandates under their authority

Sound policymaking

To achieve their intended results, public institutions need to have coherent public policies that is founded on true or well-established grounds, in full accordance with fact, reason and good sense

Collaboration

To address problems of common interest, institutions at all levels of government and in all sectors should work together and jointly with non-State actors towards the same end, purpose and effect

III. Principles of Effective Governance to Build Effective, Accountable and Inclusive Institutions

Accountability

Integrity

To serve in the public interest, civil servants are to discharge their official duties honestly, fairly and in a manner consistent with soundness of moral principle

Transparency

To ensure accountability and enable public scrutiny, institutions are to be open and candid in the execution of their functions and promote access to information, subject only to the specific and limited exceptions as are provided by law

Independent oversight

To retain trust in government, oversight agencies (e.g. court, Supreme Audit Institution) are to act according to strictly professional considerations and apart from and unaffected by others

III. Principles of Effective Governance to Build Effective, Accountable and Inclusive Institutions

Inclusiveness

Leaving no one behind

To ensure that all human beings can fulfil their potential in dignity and equality, institutions need to be reoriented so that policy is driven from the bottom up by the needs of those who are deprived and disadvantaged, including the poorest and most vulnerable and those subject to discrimination

Non-discrimination

To respect, protect and promote human rights and fundamental freedoms for all, access to public service is to be provided on general terms of equality, without distinction of any kind

Participation

To have an effective State, all significant political groups should be actively involved in matters that directly affect them and have a chance to influence policy

Subsidiarity

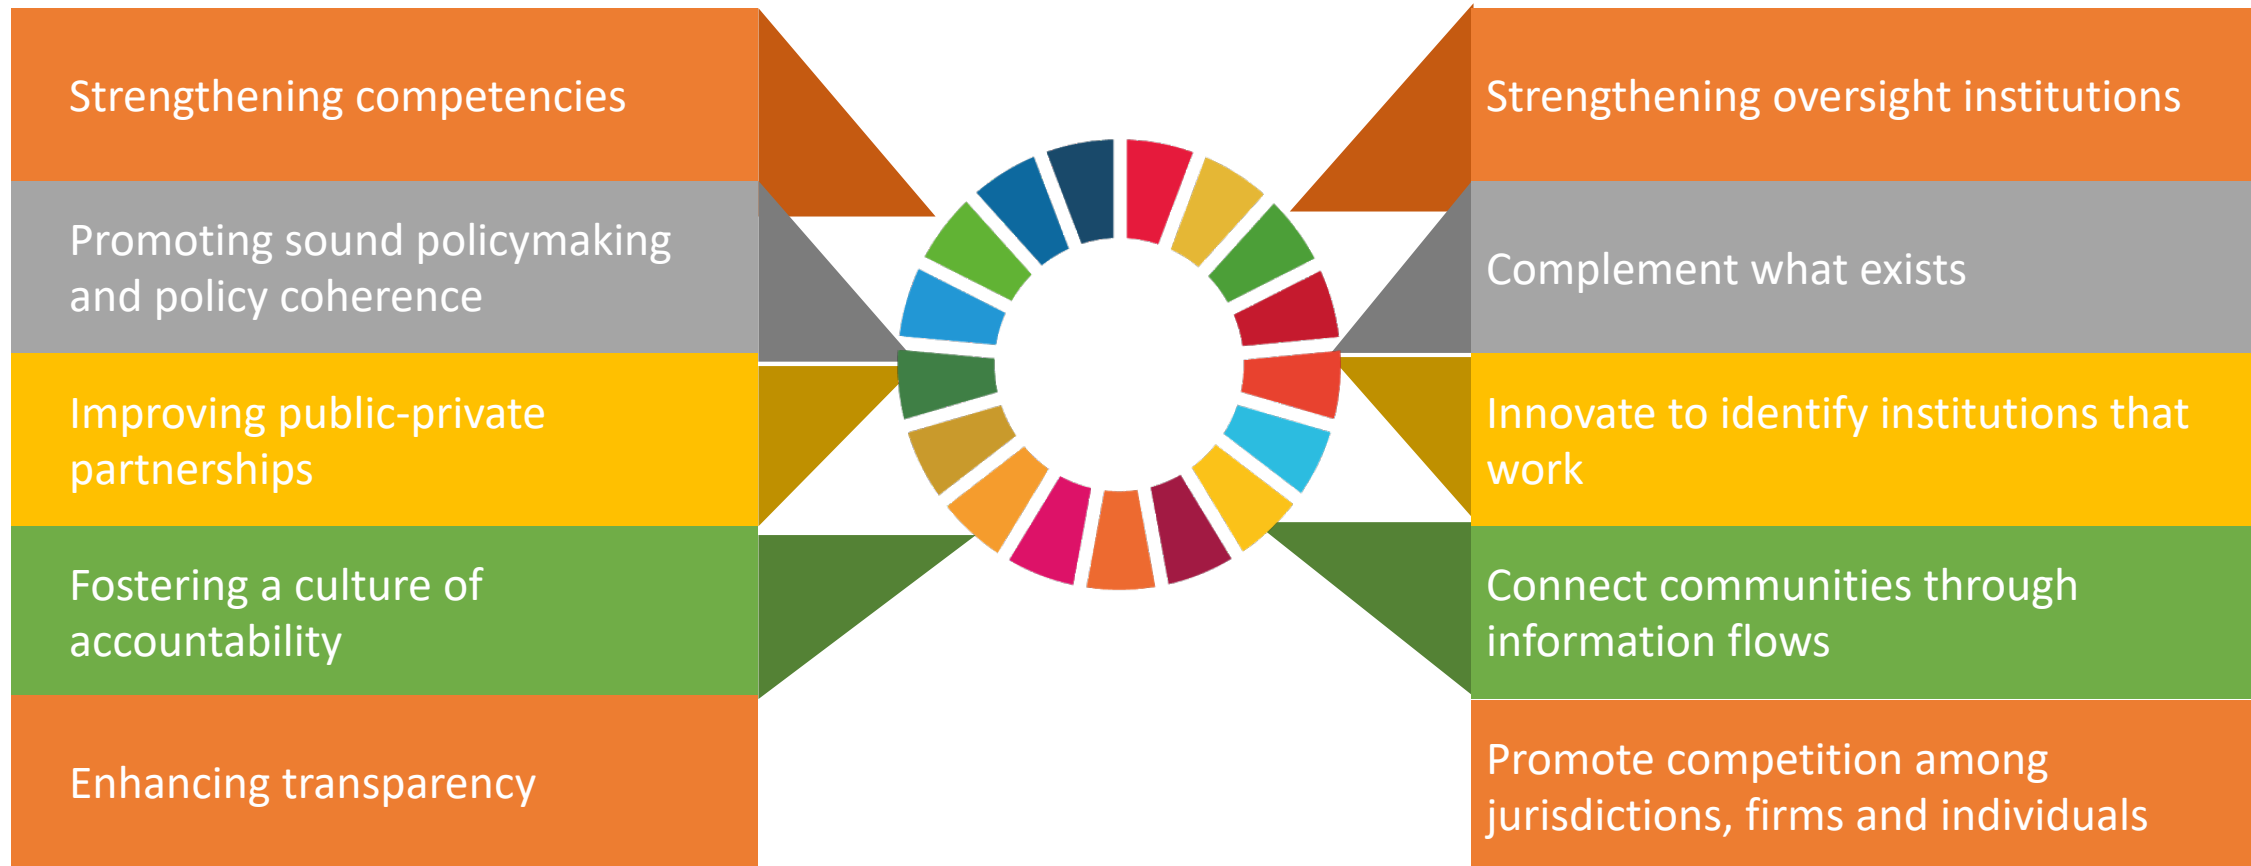

To promote government that is responsive to the needs and aspirations of all people, central authorities should perform only those tasks which cannot be performed effectively at a more intermediate or local level

Intergenerational equity

To promote prosperity and quality of life for all, institutions should construct administrative acts that balance the short-term needs of today's generation with the longer-term needs of future generations
