ASPA Will Co-Sponsor October Conference In China
ASPA President Don Menzel will lead a delegation that will participate in the International Conference on Public Administration, 21-22 October 2005, in Chengdu, China. The conference is co-sponsored by the University of Electronic Science and Technology of China (UESTC), ASPA, the Chinese Public Administration Society, and the School of Public Administration at Moscow State University, Russia. The School of Humanities and Social Science of UESTC is the host. Registration fees for ASPA members will be waived, and the UESTC will provide housing in UESTC's hotel for delegates (space is limited--not all delegates may be accommodated). UESTC will also provide the delegation with a tour of historical sites in Chengdu and would like to invite some members of the delegation to be visiting/honorary professors. For more information, please contact Menzel at donmenzel@tampabay.rr.com.

ASPA National Council Makes Key Decisions
During its semiannual meeting held on 6 April, ASPA's National Council made several key decisions, including:

- The selection of University of Colorado at Denver professor Richard Stillman and University of Oklahoma professor Jos Raadschelders as Public Administration Review editor-in-chief and managing editor respectively effective 1 January 2006 and
- The selection of Dallas, Miami and San Jose as host cities for the Society's 2008, 2009 and 2010 national conferences respectively.

ASPA Will Publish Compilation of Frederickson's Columns
ASPA announced on 2 April that it will publish a new book this fall featuring a compilation of PA TIMES columns written by H. George Frederickson.   If you are a professor and would like to request a review copy of the book, entitled Public Administration with an Attitude, please contact John Larkin at jlarkin@aspanet.org.

ASPA Will Publish Texts of 2005 Conference Lectures
Texts of lectures presented during the 2005 ASPA National Conference will be available to the broader public administration community this year. The text of the 2005 Elliot Richardson Lecture, delivered by U.S. Comptroller General David M. Walker, is now available on ASPA's web site. The 2005 Donald C. Stone Lecture, delivered by Patricia Ingraham, Distinguished Professor of Public Administration at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University, will be published in the July/August issue of Public Administration Review.
